

Bank of China Brunei Branch and Chinese Enterprises

Association in Brunei jointly held seminar on Covid-19 epidemic prevention and control measures.

On April 14, Bank of China Brunei Branch through the strong support of Bank of China Qinghai Provincial Branch organized a total of more than 70 people from the Chinese Embassy in Brunei, Bank of China Brunei Branch, and member companies of Chinese Enterprises Association in Brunei to hold an online seminar with Liu Da Kui, the Deputy Director of Emergency Department of Qinghai Provincial Hospital of Traditional Chinese for “New Coronavirus Pneumonia Prevention and Control Training”.

During the training of Director Liu Dakui, he taught the knowledge of epidemic prevention and anti-epidemic, shared the experience of anti-epidemic and anti-epidemic, and gave serious answers to the questions raised by Chinese Enterprises Associations in Brunei. Participants from the embassy, Chinese Enterprises Associations in Brunei, and Bank of China (Hong Kong) Brunei Branch truly felt the care and kindness from the motherland, which further enhanced their ability to prevent and combat the epidemic, and strengthened their confidence in defeating the epidemic.

The lecturer, Liu Dakui, is the deputy director and chief physician of the Emergency Department of Qinghai Provincial Hospital of Traditional Chinese Medicine, Deputy Director of the Emergency Branch. After the outbreak of the epidemic, Director Liu has been in charge of the training of the hospital's medical staff on the prevention and control of new coronary pneumonia and the diagnosis and treatment plan, the formulation of the traditional Chinese medicine diagnosis and treatment plan for new coronary pneumonia in Qinghai Province, and the treatment of confirmed patients. He has rich theoretical and practical experience in epidemic prevention and anti-epidemic.
